

The Science Communication Society of Japan: The Regional Branch of Kansai Area

26th Study Meeting

Why is Science "Western"?

Dec 25, 2012 / 18:00-20:00

Lecturer Dr. Sean Perera

Australian National Centre for the Public Awareness of Science (CPAS), The Australian National University (ANU)

<https://researchers.anu.edu.au/researchers/perera-spf>

Sean Perera was awarded his PhD by The Australian National University in 2010. His research explored the implication of science communication practices in teacher professional development in Australia and overseas. For his research with science teachers in Sri Lanka, he was awarded the Edward Gray Memorial Prize by the Australia Sri Lanka Council in 2007.

Venue

2nd floor Exhibition Room and Lounge (#A207), iCeMS Main Building (#71), Kyoto University

Capacity

30 people

*Registration is recommended but not required.

What to bring

Please bring your own light meal

Host

The Science Communication Society of Japan:
The Regional Branch of Kansai Area

Contact

Kei Kano (Shiga Univ. / Kyoto Univ.), Eri Mizumachi (Kyoto Univ.)
e-mail: kansai@scicomsociety.jp

Web form → <http://bit.ly/UUYScM>